Internship focus

- Understand the end-to-end workflow of managing a brand’s social media presence.
- Connect content strategy, creation, publishing, community engagement and analytics.
- Build practical skills in digital communication, planning and performance review.

About Satvify & the Problem

How social media helps a growing wellness brand

ABOUT SATVIFY

A wellness-oriented brand whose visual identity reflects balance, mindfulness and healthy living.

Social platforms help the brand build awareness, educate followers and guide interested audiences toward its offerings.

CHALLENGE IDENTIFIED

Emerging brands can struggle with:

- Irregular posting and unclear brand voice
- Content that misses audience interests
- Slow replies and weak community interaction
- Decisions based on assumptions rather than data

Core question: How can content be planned, published and evaluated consistently?

Project Objectives

The main areas I focused on during the internship

01 Research

Study audience, competitors, trends and hashtags.

02 Plan

Build content pillars, briefs and a content calendar.

03 Create

Develop captions, graphics, carousels and short-video ideas.

04 Publish

Format and schedule content with suitable keywords and hashtags.

05 Engage

Respond professionally and support community interaction.

06 Measure

Review insights, track KPIs and suggest improvements.

Social Media Content Workflow

The steps behind planning and managing content

1. Research & goals
2. Content planning
3. Create content
4. Review & publish
5. Engage community
6. Track analytics
7. Improve strategy

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

Performance insights feed back into the next content plan—helping the brand learn what resonates with its audience.

Content Planning & Creation

Different types of content serve different purposes

Educational	Wellness tips, how-to guides, myth-busting	Carousels, reels
Inspirational	Quotes, mindful-living ideas, stories	Static posts, stories
Brand & product	Offerings, behind-the-scenes, launches	Reels, photos
Community	Polls, Q&A, testimonials, user content	Stories, reposts
Promotional	Offers, announcements and events	Posts, ads, stories

Each post should have a clear purpose, key message, format and call to action.

Tools & Technologies

Tools used for content, planning and tracking

Platforms

Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, YouTube, X

Design

Canva, Adobe Express

Video editing

CapCut, InShot, Instagram editor

Scheduling

Meta Business Suite, Buffer, Hootsuite

Analytics

Platform Insights, Google Analytics

Planning & research

Google Sheets, Docs, Notion, Google Trends

Performance Measurement

A few metrics help show how content is performing

Reach

Unique accounts that saw the content

Impressions

Total times content was displayed

Engagement rate

Interactions relative to reach

Follower growth

Net new followers over a period

Click-through rate

Link clicks relative to impressions

Conversions

Sign-ups, enquiries or purchases

Key lesson: high likes alone do not always mean high reach or genuine audience interest.

Learning Outcomes & Challenges

What I learned and what I found challenging

SKILLS DEVELOPED

- Strategic thinking and audience awareness
- Caption writing, hooks and calls to action
- Visual design and short-video planning
- Content calendar management
- Communication and coordination
- Analytics and data-informed decisions
- Time management and professional ethics

CHALLENGES & LESSONS

- Adapting writing to a brand voice
- Meeting content calendar deadlines
- Understanding metrics beyond likes

Lessons:

- Consistency builds trust
- Keep each post clear and purposeful
- Use insights rather than assumptions
- Reply promptly, kindly and honestly

CONCLUSION

Good content needs planning, consistency and review.

This internship gave me a clearer idea of how social media work happens behind the scenes—from planning content to checking how people respond. I also learned that numbers and audience feedback are useful when deciding what to improve.
